Becoming a full time carer to a child can be very unexpected and overwhelming, and you may feel you have no idea where to start. This brochure was created to help, support and to direct you to the appropriate services.

Steps for beginners

Step 1. Keep a diary:

- i) Start your diary with the details on how you came to be the primary carer of the child
- ii) Maintain the diary by jotting down:
 - a) Day-to-day incidents about the child and yourself. Think about how you're coping or otherwise with this new situation and how this went including financially and legally as well as your health and well-being
 - b) Any interaction between you, the child and their parents.

Step 2. Contact your local group or Samaritans Kinship Care Case Manager:

See list on back page or, if there isn't one locally, contact one that you may be able to travel to occasionally. These groups have been found to be of significant worth in helping people cope with their new living situation.

Visit Samaritans website at www.samaritans.org.au or refer to the list of contacts on the back of this brochure. for information on services that can assist you.

Step 3. Ask your local group to help you to:

- i) Contact you nearest 'emergency relief' service if needed for clothes, bedding furniture, etc.
- ii) Work out what financial support you are eligible for and how to access this support.
- iii) Contact legal support where necessary.

Step 4. Meet with the Principal at the child's school:

To explain the new situation and seek their support in helping the child cope with the trauma of this major change in their living arrangements.

Step 5. Make sure:

Both you, your partner, and the child/ren have some social opportunities each week. Our groups organise activities such as picnics, outings and camps throughout the year. These help the child to 'discover' others in a like situation to themselves and gives you some degree of respite!

Step 6. Seek Professional counselling:

Understanding or coping with the child's behaviour or health and well-being. Or, if the situation is putting a stress on your other relationships. Again, our groups will help you with seeking such support.
